

Envelope Number 98P-0151/CPI

I am writing in support of a petition filed by Farm Sanctuary, a non-profit organization, and Michael Baur, a regular consumer of meat products, that calls for the explicit labeling of downed animals as adulterated, thus prohibiting their transport and slaughter. "Downed" animals are shackled, hoisted, and dragged by the leg or neck, or pushed by tractors and forklifts to the slaughterhouse. The helpless animals suffer broken bones, torn tendons, and lacerations from this inhumane handling. In addition, recent research suggests that downed animals may harbor a variant of "mad cow" disease, and allowing them to enter the nation's food supply may jeopardize human health.
